WANTED, A CHOPPING BLOCK.

The church "Republicans" are in dalging in a sort of partisan babble and hubbub, as if they considered themselves a factor in the present municipal campaign. We doubt very, much, however, whether they will cut any figure worth while this year. When ever Dick Morris has been a candidate in this city he has been supported by the church. He does not go into a campaign at all without having the assurance that he will "be treated right. Of course everyone knows what that means, and especially everyone knows what it will mean this year, when it is recalled that a short while ago Mr. Morris was determined that he would not be in politics, and that under no consideration would be accept the Democratic nomination. Now that he has changed his mind and has accepted it, of course the inference is unavoidnble The talk about the impossibility of Morris winning, and that the "Republican" candidate will be the favored church man this year, is probably quite out of the question. To quote figures, as the Smoot "mouth" does, of the when Morris was not running, and foverish activity of the church was expended in behalf of the "Republican' ticket as an evidence of what will be done this year, is altogether aside from the question. So far as the returns of last year are concerned, they will have to be compared with the returns of two years ago, when Morris was running, in order to get at any candid forecast as to what will occur this year when Morris is running again. It was perfectly understood last fall that the "Republican" ticket was the church ticket; nobody expected the 'Democrats' to poll much of a vote, The total "Democratic" vote in the county in 1906 was put 2367 below the Morris vote in the city alone in 1905, the figures being (on Clerk) for Sears (Democrat), last year, 5463 in the county; for Morris, in the city, in 1905, a total of 7830. Of course, therefore, the vote of last year is no eritorion whatever to go by It is quite impossible that last year' figures could receive any particular consideration this year, especially when taken apart from the Morris figures of two years ago.

It looks now decidedly as though the church power is again behind Morris, and will come to his support this year, as it did two years ago. It will probably come to his support earlier in the day than it did two years ago, when, by Smoot's influence, it was held back from him until the afternoon of election day.

The "Republican", managers are busy these days trying to persuade some non-Mormon to be their candidate for Mayor; the game is a very transparent one, however. It is the usual thing; Morris to run as the church candidate and receive the church vote without regard to party; a non-Mormon to run for Mayor on the "Republican "ticket, and be slaughtered. as Lynch was slaughtered two years ago. lican has any idea of running on the American party exists in Utah today. of the church to attempt any interfer-"Republican" ticket for Mayor, he had Those leaders make the Mormon church | ence with the politics of the community better postpone it until some other year. organization a party machine. The probability is that the church leaders may succeed in inveigling some non-Mormon into taking their nomina-Mormon than a Mormon, because the Mormons, as we say above, are probfor the chopping block.

HARDIHOOD OR HUMOR?

The Herald is developing an unexpected vein of humor (or is it bardi-Any Smootite will be acceptable to hood) in this campaign. It said, for the Federal brigade for the mayoralty instance, yesterday morning that "two nomination, if only he be without that years ago Mayor Morris and his associates on the ticket would have been elected if it had not been for Senator Smoot's personal interference and the able to walk to the right, the Greater appeal on religious lines which was

The elders having it in charge left the church headquarters about two o'clock in the afternoon, after there had been a conference of the church leaders in which was conceded that Lynch must be sacrificed in behalf of "Brother Mor-The vote showed conclusively that Lynch was so sacrificed in Mr. Morris's behalf; Morris running nearly a thousand votes shead of his ticket, and Lynch running correspondingly behind. The ent was on the maveralty and not on the rest of the ticket. It was as hald and bungling a piece of church political dictation as was ever seen, even in priest-ridden Utah. It is decidedly funny now, but two years later, to find the Herald claiming that that interference was against Morris when the facts show conclusively that Morris was tremendously helped by it, and that if it had occurred in the morning and lasted all day instead of prevailing only in the afternoon, that interference would undoubtedly have elected him. And the returns further showed that that church interference which did so much for him that day is the only possible thing that could have elected him at that time. We recommend that the Herald look into the election returns a little before election returns in the city last year, making such a silly break again as it made yesterday morning in claiming when the stress and burden and that the church interference of two years ago was against Morris. It was for him, beyond the shadow of a doubt, and for him hard.

Severing itself entirely from all religious affairs in its political work and efforts, the American party has always declared its purpose to be a political party only, having nothing to do with religion or in any way to interfere with any one's religions affiliations or any one's ereed.

In fact, the very reason for the existence of the American party is its opposition to any such thing as church interference in politics. It is because the Mormon leaders will not keep their leaders out of the arena of partisan testified in Washington that in furtherance of his aspirations for the Senatorship, after getting the endorsement of the First Presidency and the Twelve for his candidacy, he organized his forces, he meant simply that he used the organization of the Mormon church to further his campaign. be the fact, that the American party's great ambition and desire is to eradicate the religious dominating element from the politics of this State altogether.

It, is curious, by the way, that the Mormon church leaders are the only ones who object to the American party's position in this matter, if there were any substance to the charge. Neither the Presbyterian, the Episcopal, the Catholic, the Methodist, the Baptist, nor any other of the denominations that have a foothold in Utah have in any way, form or degree suggested that the American party, in demanding the climination of the hierarchic con trol of Utah politics in civil affairs, in making war on religion. How does it happen, if the American party is, in fact, making war on religion, that the representatives of the orthodox reli gions have not found it out? And vet there is not one of these representatives who for one moment suggests or supposes that the American party is making any war on religion. They know the contrary. They know precisely the American party's position upon this, which is, so far as religion s concerned, that it be kept out from the politics of Utah, and that the priestly dominance that has cursed Utah from its first settlement, shall

As noted in these columns at a formion of the American party and to its. The first prophet, so-called, protested to polygamy. The church denied for him. He continued to assert his innocence to the day of his death, saying that he was "going like a lamb to the slaughter. 'In this day, his own relative confesses to the criminality of his avuncular predecessor, and boasts of it in order to ecclesiastically legiti mate his own offending against law and deceney. So the former denial was a flagrant and malevolent untruth, spoken and reiterated by syncopathic associates to meet a "present need." In early years it was the practice of the church to fervently proclaim a religious affairs and their religious desire for peace with all men; that there was no intention on the part of the only worse. If any non-Mormon Republiquile and partisan politics that the gathered and concentrated membership litical bargains, and, Smith-like, broke rounded himself with a body of troops of his own religious persuasion-the nonneed himself to be a candidate for the Presidency of the United States, while yet he was "prophet, seer, and revelator" and president of the Morman church. The hierarchs of that day on account of their political dishonesty and civil deviltries, called down about this constantly. When Apostle Smoot the ears of the Mormon people such a storm of strife that they were obliged to flee. They were led to this part of the country, in the hope that here they might be able to have full sway. And after they arrived here, and for many years in the early period of this commonwealth, the ecclesiastical politicians tyrannized over all the inhabitants, Gentile and Mormon alike. All the time they were protesting loyalty and devotion to the country, while at the same moment they preached from their pulpits the most damnable political and National heresy that ever afflicted the ears of loval men.

In this valley, being firmly established, they openly promulgated that which they had denied at Nauvoo, making the belated confession that their prototype, Joseph Smith, had lived a similar life and pursued a like course in Illinois. So they thus branded their former denial as the vilest and most contemptible manner of falsehood and hypocrisv.

Ever since the church was organized the leaders have protested, denied, contradicted-and sinned. And from the very first they have been exposed as hypocrites; have been convicted of insincerity; have yielded; have been conquered; have fled. That has been their

For many years the highest inspired authorities of the Mormon church denied in most emphatic and heated terms the assertion that new polygamous marriages had occurred since the issuance of the manifesto. The men and the newspapers making these charges were denounced and vilified in a most shame ful way. Now the highest inspired authorities in the Mormon church confess, over their personal signatures, that these charges were true. They feel safe in doing this at the present time." The 'need of the hour'' formerly prompted them to vehement denial-a plea of innocence as false as it was mean. But that particular need no longer exists. The political bargaining and scheming which has been expensively conducted by the heads of the Mormon church has led them into the fanatical fancy that concealment of the crime and pledgebreaking is no longer necessary. Therefore they come out boldly in confession of guilt of the very charges which hitherto they had declared to be false. And in the meantime, they give themselves credit for courage in the midst of unfortunate conditions.

The Deseret News may as well reiterate the old denial of Nauvoo, that Joseph Smith was not a polygamist, as to quote the protest, virtuous as it may seem to be, of the political manifesto of 1896.

Lehi Banner. The political pot is beginning to boil in Salt Lake City and Ogden. In other cities of the State things are warming cities of the State things are warming up, but have not yet reached the stage characterized in politics as "hot." As a newspaper we are not interested in the success of any particular faction or party, but we are interested in the success of every city in the State, and we know that the success of a city administration depends more upon the men than upon the party. In the political parties there are professional politicians who work for office, but who, in many instances, are unfit to serve the people. They should not receive the support of voters. Instead, those men who possess a progressive, clean moral public spirit with executive ability and an interest in the welfare of the entire community, are the men that should be chosen by each organization when in session to choose the public servants.

IT IS A WONDERFUL STATE

Shoshone Journal.

What oceans of water come down the rivers of Idaho, to flow to the sea without furning a wheel or watering a blade of grass! Oceans of clear, sparkling water, from the everlasting granite fills where the snowdrifts and the rain clouds fill ten thousand springs with a neverfalling supply of water. Not pond water, out the purest, the best that any State ever saw. What would it be worth to hold the surplus waters of Idaho, to store them through the long winters, and so distribute them as to reclaim every possible acre of tillable land in Idaho? It would be beyond price. There are pocky gorges, which, converted into reservoir lakes, would feed their crystalline, watery treasures to the thirsty, responsive land and the teeming multitudes who would inhabit it, if the limit of irrigation production were reached. There are still some wonderful reservoir possibilities have hardly been touched. Idaho is great today, but when the last possible acre of the Snake river valley has been reclaimed, which can be done only through a vast and comprehensive reservoir system. Idaho will be the greatest, most wonderful State in the Union. hoshone Journal.

The launching of a Presidential boom for Judge K. M. Landis of Chicago, coupled with the record his friends will present in his benaif, brings up a grave question and one that deserves much serious consideration. Undoubtedly the Standard Oil deserved every dollar of the fine Judge Landis imposed. Without question fills line will be but a drop in the bucket as compared with the riches his octopus has accumulated through fillegal means. But is it proper for a Federal Judge, or the Judge of any court, to enter upon a political campaign because he has fined some one or something? Does it tend to promote justice to have a ludge point to the immensity of fines he has imposed or acuteaces he has prenounced as proof of right to penitical preference? Again, the Standard Oil needs no sympathy. But a judge is expected to be as free from blas, as clear of prefudice as it is pressible for a human being to be. Once let it be known that the Judge who can show the grantest record of fines or contences will be honored with high political office, and is takes no prophet to foresee the future.
